I

OVERVIEW

Steve and Sheryl Mosley have a swimming pool on their property which is fenced on three sides. On the rear of their property, there is a natural barrier protecting the unfenced side of their pool. This barrier is created by a four foot deep inlet of the Arkansas River. The City fencing ordinance requires that swimming pools be fenced on four sides, but in the alternative, a barrier can be approved if it is equally as effective in preventing access by small children. Maumelle Code enforcement will not issue an approval to the Mosleys' based on the existence of the natural barrier formed by the Arkansas River. The City Planning Commission also denied the Mosleys' request for a Variance from the fencing ordinance. The Mosleys have appealed that denial to this Council. Their appeal will demonstrate that the natural barrier created by the Arkansas River inlet is at a minimum as effective as any fence required by the City's fencing ordinance.

II

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Steve and Sheryl Mosley have lived at 16 Riverwood Place in Maumelle for over twenty years. The swimming pool was added by the previous owner no later than August 1989. It is fenced on three sides. According to the Mosleys' next-door neighbor the pool and its side fencing were already in existence when they moved into their house at 14 Riverwood Place on or around that date. (See letter of Ron Keltner enclosed as Exhibit "A.")

A natural barrier bordering the unfenced side of the pool traverses the entire length of the Mosley's property on its northwestern boundary. (See survey of the property included as Exhibit "B" and aerial photographs included as Exhibit "C.") Because the inlet is part of the River, it is not susceptible to "drying up" during the typical dry periods of an Arkansas Summer. Its depth is approximately four feet even during these dry periods.

The inlet also creates a barrier with no gaps in it. The side fences bordering the Moselys' property extend all the way down to its waters.

The Inlet is not the only natural barrier on the rear of the Mosley's property. Its opposite bank is covered by thick brush and undergrowth. It also descends twenty-five feet at a steep angle to the waters of the Inlet.

The other bank of the Inlet immediately adjacent to the Mosley's property presents a third natural barrier. It is steep and covered with jagged rocks and undergrowth. (See pictures of this Inlet and its banks enclosed with this Appeal.)

Given these barriers it would be impossible for a small child to wander into the Mosley's property, survive his or her journey and discover their pool. First, the child would have to come from properties on the other side of the Inlet. These properties are located on Samantha Lane which is a private drive adjacent to the Maumelle Country Club. The child would have to stay on his or her feet and travel down the steep opposite bank of the Inlet through brush and deep undergrowth. If the child lost his or her footing, he or she would in all likelihood tumble down the opposite bank, fall into the Inlet and drown.

If the small child could remain standing on the opposite bank of the Inlet, he or she would then have to cross it. Any attempt would likely be fatal because the depth of the Inlet is approximately four feet.

Finally, if the small child could survive crossing the Inlet, he or she would then have to climb over the jagged rocks and undergrowth on its other bank before arriving at the first level surface immediately adjacent to the Mosley's property. The odds of a small child accomplishing this are significantly less than he or she would have in climbing over a four foot wrought iron fence surrounding a pool.

Notwithstanding this natural barrier, Mr. Jim Morley of Code Enforcement informed the Mosleys they were required to build a fence on the rear side of the pool. Initially he indicated he had no problem with the natural barrier, but later changed his mind and stated that: "The current barrier, in my opinion, does not meet [the requirements of the Code.]" He also told the Mosleys that the part of the fence on the northerly side of their property was illegal because it extended beyond their property line. For these reasons, the Mosleys had no alternative but to seek a variance from the Planning Commission.

III

THE PLANNING COMMISSION

FAILED TO ADDRESS THE MATERIAL ISSUES

GOVERNING THE MERITS OF THIS VARIANCE

The applicable City Ordinance for pool fences provides:

[T]he fence must be of a height of at least 48 inches in order that access by small children may be restricted. In the alternative, if another type of barrier, at least 48 inches high is preferred by the [homeowner], that person may use the barrier if it is inspected and approved in writing by the department enforcing this article, who shall so approve if the barrier is as effective as a fence would be in restricting access by small children. (Sec. 14-143 [Emphasis added].)

The central issue governing this appeal is whether:

The Moselys' natural barrier is as effective as a fence in restricting access by small children.

No one on the Planning Commission appeared to challenge the effectiveness of the Mosleys' natural barrier. Nor were any serious concerns raised about whether the Mosleys' pool constituted a safety hazard.

Instead, the Commission engaged in a discussion about matters that were either immaterial, outside the scope of its authority or speculative in nature. There was little or no discussion of whether the Mosleys' pool presented a safety hazard.

The bulk of the Commission's discussion centered on the following issues.

- 1) Who owned the land that borders on the rear of the Mosley's property.

- 2) The legality of the side fences.
- 3) Is a natural barrier less effective because it is not on the Moselys' property?
- 4) Was there insurance?
- 5) What would happen if the side fences were blown down?

All of those issues raised are either immaterial to the issue of the Variance or without merit.

1. Ownership of the Property. If a natural barrier is formed by the Arkansas River the issue of who “owns” that barrier is completely immaterial. It is still a natural barrier regardless of who owns it. No one, including Mr. Morely presented any evidence that this natural barrier is going to disappear. At best, Mr. Morely speculated about whether the depth of the inlet could or might be reduced or diminished. But he presented no evidence that it would.

Ownership of the property between the River Inlet and the Mosley’s rear boundary is not relevant or material to the issue of whether the Mosleys have an effective natural barrier that would prevent children from gaining access to their swimming pool.

Instead, the Planning Commission entertained speculative hearsay statements about who owned that property. Even if there were a property dispute, neither the City nor the Planning Commission would be in any position to adjudicate that issue. That would be an issue to be decided by the Pulaski County Circuit Court in a civil case. It could involve matters such as validity or color of title, adverse possession, prescriptive easements and boundaries by acquiescence. None of this is within the scope of the City's authority or jurisdiction. None of these speculative matters involve issues of public safety which is the City's concern here.

In addition, the natural barrier in question is formed by the Arkansas River. The River does not have to be on anyone's property to form an effective natural barrier. There is nothing illegal per se about the Inlet that is adjacent to the Mosleys property. In addition, the Mosleys have occupied all of this property between the Inlet and their property line since the time they purchased their home over twenty years ago. No one has complained.

2, The side fences bordering the Mosley's property. This is another non-issue. Many on the Planning Commission and Mr. Morely apparently failed to understand that these fences are legal even if they extend beyond the Mosleys' property line. Repeatedly cited was the City Ordinance which provides that:

“No fence may be constructed beyond the property line. (§ 14-112(9).)

Because the side fences extend beyond the Moselys' rear property line and down to the River Inlet, they were claimed to be illegal. The above code, however, does not apply to “fences erected before November 1, 2006.” (See § 14-112(9).)

The fences on both the North and South boundaries of the Mosley's property were in existence long before 2006. Therefore, as a matter of law, the side fences on the Mosleys' property are legal.

Some of the Planning Commissioners, however, raised the question: "What if the fences are blown down and have to be repaired or reconstructed?"

That issue is a hypothetical one that may or may not occur in the future. It could be addressed if and when it does occur. The Planning Commission was therefore approaching the subject as if the Mosleys did not have legal side fences.

To alleviate these concerns about construction of future fences, the following language was offered at the hearing for the text of the Variance.

The natural barrier satisfies the fence requirement with regard to the rear side [of the property] on the condition that the existing side fences remain intact and in [their] current positions.

By a vote of 4 to 3, the Planning Commission denied this Variance.

III

MAUMELLE CODE ENFORCEMENT FAILED TO PERFORM

THE LEGAL DUTY IT OWED THE MOSELYS

Mr. Jim Morely of Code Enforcement told the Planning Commission that:

I did not consider the barrier in the back and this particular section of the code asks that I go out and make a determination on whether this barrier is equivalent to a four foot tall fence. And I have no way . . . no quantitative way to make that determination. And if everything stayed as it is I think the probabilities are certainly very small that a child could get in there. But as we know things do change over twenty or thirty years. So I just don't feel comfortable at all about issuing [a variance]. . . . I don't want to twenty years from now to be held either morally or otherwise culpable for some unlikely tragedy." [Emphasis added.]

There are multiple problems with his statement.

1. He introduced additional conditions not required by the Ordinance:

If everything stayed as it is I think the probabilities are very small that a child could get in there."

The Code does not require an enforcement officer to speculate about future events. It does not require a citizen to guarantee compliance in the future. It only requires that the barrier be evaluated as it currently exists.

2. Mr. Morely admitted the barrier was effective. He stated:

I think the probabilities are certainly very small that a child could get in there.

3. Based on his speculative "knowledge" that things "can change over "twenty or thirty" years, however, he discounted the effectiveness of the barrier.

4. Rather than objectively evaluate the barrier, he introduced his own personal subjective considerations.

So I just don't feel comfortable at all about issuing [a variance]. . . . I don't want to twenty years from now to be held either morally or otherwise culpable for some unlikely tragedy."

Mr. Morely denied a variance because he did not want to be held “morally culpable” if some future tragedy were to occur. Based on that standard, Mr. Morely can never approve a variance with respect to a swimming pool within the City of Maumelle. There is always the possibility of some future tragedy regardless of the type of pool fencing, configurations and barriers involved.

5. Finally, he states: “I cannot quantitatively make that determination.” He never explained what he meant by that statement.

6. Mr. Morely cannot deny the request for variance based on his uncorroborated lack of knowledge about the depth of the Inlet, particularly after the Mosleys offered evidence that it was four feet deep. If he had reason to believe otherwise, he had a duty to verify his belief. He cannot arbitrarily refuse to do his duty and say “I can’t verify that.”

If Mr. Morley was unconvinced about the depth of the Inlet, he had an easy solution. He could have measured it. He chose not to do so.

IV

CONCLUSION

Under Ordinance 14-143, a swimming pool barrier may be used:

[I]f it is inspected and approved in writing by the department enforcing this article, who shall so approve if the barrier is as effective as a fence would be in restricting access by small children.

Mr. Morely had a duty to inspect and either approve or disapprove the natural barrier. He did not measure the Inlet. He failed to carry out his legal duties. For that reason, the Moselys had no alternative but to seek a variance from the Planning Commission. The Commission, in turn, failed to address the central issue of the effectiveness of the natural barrier. Instead, it went off on a series of speculative discussions about what would or could occur if the side fences on the Mosleys' property were blown down. The current legality of the side fences is not an issue. As a matter of law they are legal.

The merits of the Mosley's requested variance should not be determined based on immaterial matters. The natural barriers are unique to the Mosley's property. It is extremely doubtful that any other property in the City of Maumelle has an inlet from the Arkansas River providing a barrier at one of its boundaries.

The Mosleys therefore request that the Maumelle City Council reverse the decision of the Planning Commission and grant their request for a variance.

Respectfully submitted

Maumelle, AR 72113

Dear Steve,

We are the first and current owners of our house at 14 Riverwood Place and live next door to 16 Riverwood Place. When we moved into our house in August of 1989, the pool and fencing at 16 Riverwood Place were already in place.
